Visa and Entry Requirements

Citizens of most countries do not need a visa to enter Nicaragua for tourism purposes. However, you will need a valid passport that is valid for at least six months beyond your intended date of departure. You will also need to fill out an immigration form upon arrival.

If you are planning to stay in Nicaragua for more than 90 days, you will need to apply for a visa in advance. You can do this at your nearest Nicaraguan embassy or consulate.

Currency

The official currency of Nicaragua is the córdoba (NIO). You can exchange currency at banks, exchange bureaus, and hotels. It is also possible to use US dollars in many tourist areas.

Credit cards are accepted in most major cities and tourist destinations. However, it's always a good idea to have some cash on hand in case of emergencies.

Safety

Nicaragua is generally a safe country to travel in. However, as with any destination, it's important to be aware of your surroundings and take precautions to avoid becoming a victim of crime.

Here are a few safety tips to keep in mind:

- Be aware of your surroundings and avoid walking alone at night.
- Keep your valuables safe and don't carry large amounts of cash.
- Be careful when using ATMs and avoid using them at night.
- If you are robbed, do not resist and give up your belongings.
- Report any crimes to the police.

Attractions

Nicaragua has a wide variety of attractions to offer tourists, including:

- Stunning beaches: Nicaragua has some of the most beautiful beaches in Central America. The Corn Islands are a popular destination for beachgoers, as they offer white-sand beaches, crystal-clear waters, and lush vegetation.
- Volcanoes: Nicaragua is home to several volcanoes, including the active Masaya Volcano. You can hike to the summit of Masaya Volcano and see the lava flowing inside the crater.
- Ancient ruins: Nicaragua is home to several ancient ruins, including the pre-Columbian city of León Viejo. León Viejo was declared a UNESCO World Heritage Site in 2000.
- Vibrant cities: Nicaragua's cities are full of life and culture. Managua is the capital of Nicaragua and the largest city in the country. Granada is a beautiful colonial city with charming architecture and cobblestone streets.

Things to Do

There are many things to do in Nicaragua, including:

- Surfing: Nicaragua is a great place to go surfing. There are several surf breaks along the Pacific coast, and the waves are typically consistent and uncrowded.
- Hiking: Nicaragua has several hiking trails, including the Mombacho Volcano Trail. The Mombacho Volcano Trail is a challenging hike, but it offers stunning views of the surrounding countryside.

- Fishing: Nicaragua is a great place to go fishing. You can fish in the Pacific Ocean, the Caribbean Sea, or Lake Nicaragua. There are a variety of fish species available, including marlin, tuna, and snapper.
- Exploring: Nicaragua is a great place to explore. You can visit ancient ruins, explore colonial cities, or hike through the rainforest. There's something for everyone in Nicaragua.
