The Poetic Edda

The Poetic Edda is a collection of epic poems that tell the stories of the Norse gods and heroes. These poems are a valuable source of information about Norse mythology and provide insights into the beliefs and values of the Norse people.

Some of the most famous poems in the Poetic Edda include:

- The Völuspá: This poem tells the story of the creation of the world and the end of the world.
- The Hávamál: This poem is a collection of wisdom sayings and proverbs.
- The Sigurðarkviða hin skamma: This poem tells the story of the hero Sigurd.

The Prose Edda

The Prose Edda is a collection of prose texts that provide a more systematic account of Norse mythology and cosmology. These texts were written by the Icelandic scholar Snorri Sturluson in the 13th century.

The Prose Edda includes the following texts:

- The Gylfaginning: This text is a dialogue between the god Odin and the giant Gylfi. Odin tells Gylfi about the creation of the world, the gods and goddesses, and the end of the world.
- The Skáldskaparmál: This text is a treatise on the art of skaldic poetry. It provides examples of skaldic poetry and explains the use of kennings.
- The Háttatal: This text is a list of the different types of skaldic verse.
