

The Most Famous Duel in American History: The Burr-Hamilton Duel

On July 11, 1804, Alexander Hamilton, one of the Founding Fathers of the United States, was killed in a duel with Aaron Burr, the sitting Vice President. The duel was the culmination of a long-running feud between the two men, which had begun during the Revolutionary War.

Hamilton and Burr were both brilliant and ambitious men, but they had very different personalities. Hamilton was a Federalist, who believed in a strong central government. Burr was a Democratic-Republican, who believed in states' rights. The two men clashed frequently over policy, and their rivalry eventually led to the duel.

The duel took place at Weehawken, New Jersey, across the Hudson River from New York City. Hamilton and Burr exchanged shots, and Hamilton was mortally wounded. He died the following day.
